Empathy Map

SAYS “I have too many dense textbook pages to cover before tomorrow's exam.” “I wish I could get instant, simple concept explanations late at night.” “I need a fast way to test if I actually understand this chapter.”	THINKS Is there a tool to simplify this academic jargon into plain English? Standard search engines take too long to give direct homework answers. I need a clear, step-by-step roadmap so I don't feel lost in this subject.
PERSONA NAME (Student)
DOES Skims through massive research papers and PDFs word-for-word. Searches across scattered online forums trying to build a study guide. Takes generic online practice tests that don't match the actual class syllabus.	FEELS Overwhelmed by advanced technical terms and heavy workloads. Frustrated by wasting time stuck on a single concept during individual study. Anxious about exams due to a lack of custom self-evaluation tools.
